

THIS IS JUST THE BEGINNING.

MassCUE, with the support of Bell Atlantic and the statewide TTPD professional development system, is moving to identify many more training locations. Such locations will benefit from upcoming MassCUE sponsored training and mentoring opportunities. Our goal is to build training sites that are local, sustainable, and effective in developing teacher confidence in the appropriate use of technology.

Realizing that adequate personnel for technology integration and support is a serious issue in Massachusetts, we will work to train several mentors/trainers at each identified site. To this end, we intend to offer training, materials, and varied opportunities to these sites, thus benefiting the school systems that offer limited use of their labs and professionals.

Contact Nancy Vose, President of MassCUE, if you wish to be a future training site for MassCUE and to take advantage of our upcoming training opportunities.

EXPLORING THE WORLD WIDE WEB

Experience the wonders of the World Wide Web through this hands-on Internet workshop. Discover an amazing array of Web sites and Internet resources to support you and your students in specified research. The Internet can provide alternative curriculum resources.

This Massachusetts Computer Using Educators' event represents a continued effort to bring educators together for simultaneous introductory Internet training. This supports the continued efforts of NetDay and will extend the teacher power we need in our state to enable our students to use the research and communication skills of the 21st century both effectively and responsibly.

In this training session, the participant will:

- understand the distinction between the World Wide Web and the Internet
- be introduced to the language of the Internet
- be introduced to the mechanics involved in exploring the World Wide Web, including search engines (catalog, indexes) and bookmarks
- identify resources for individual curriculum areas
- identify areas of support for educators
- learn to save resources for later use
- be alert to security precautions
- be updated on the $25 teacher accounts

Sponsored by BELL ATLANTIC

In order to encourage the participation of educators throughout the state and to support this year's Mass NetDay initiative, Bell Atlantic is sponsoring this event by subsidizing the cost to each participating teacher by $20. Training fees are:

	Original Fee	With Support from Bell Atlantic
Member	$40	$20
Non-member	$50	$30
